BENTON CONSOLIDATED
HIGH SCHOOL

Benton, Illinois

Vol. XLVII

Foreword

We have tried to make the Scarab as good as possible on this, its fiftieth anniversary.

Through the use of pictures and words, the 1967 Scarab staff has worked to preserve the memory of a year at Benton Consolidated High School for the readers who will look back in the future in an effort to relive their high school years.

We have tried to collar all aspects of the year, the transfer of knowledge, the teaching of democratic ideals, the moments of fun, the times of disappointment, and the periods of achievement that group together to form a typical school year.

As editor of this yearbook, I have, with the aid of three capable assistant editors and a responsible advisor, gained much in ironing out the problems of the year's Scarab.

I would like to thank Mr. William Blewett who gave us superb service as the Taylor Publishing Company's representative. I would also like to express our gratitude to Paul Hickman who devoted much of his time in taking special pictures.

My one wish is that when you read this book, it will bring back warm and pleasant memories of a happy school year.

Harlie Smith, Jr., editor-in-chief

Fifty years ago the Benton High School published the first yearbook called the "Scarab."

The NOTNEB (Benton spelled backwards) was the first yearbook to be published by Benton High School and was printed in 1915. There was no yearbook published in 1916, but in 1917 a yearbook was again printed. There was a dispute among the students as to whether they should continue using the name "NOTNEB" or decide on a new name for the yearbook. The students decided that the name should be meaningful, so they agreed on the name "SCARAB." The scarab is a beetle which was sacred to the ancient Egyptians. To them it symbolized the resurrection and immortality, and it was a token of good luck. This name was appropriate for the yearbook of Benton High School because Southern Illinois is known as "Little Egypt." The Scarab is like a scavenger beetle in that it gathers bits of information of enjoyable and exciting events of the school year to be looked back on and relived by the students of Benton High School. This year is the fiftieth year that the yearbook of our school has been named the "Scarab," and through the years the Scarab has come to be a cherished reminder of our high school years, four of the most important years of our lives.

Dedication

The 1967 Scarab is dedicated to Mr. John Miller for his many years of diligent service in the teaching profession. These years have been marked by dedication in the field of speech and drama where his primary concern has always been the individual student rather than personal reward.

He has shaped the lives of countless young people by preparing them for the challenge of a modern world with the tools of effective speech and the ability of self-expression—precious talents in today's shrinking world. Newly-formed skill in public speaking has enabled his students to find greater poise and confidence in endeavors in other fields, and thus broader successes than before contact with Mr. Miller.

His coaching, and sometimes his coaxing, in school drama productions has raised the level of excellence in school plays at Benton Consolidated High School. Several graduates have gone on to success in college drama and collegiate debate.

His concern, his understanding, and, above all, his ability to make his students want to achieve for him have sent many toward broader horizons. These students look back in appreciation to Mr. John Miller, who sent them along the path of achievement.

It is with great pride and obvious reason that the 1967 Scarab is dedicated to Mr. John Miller.

Fun With Friends Was

Soap, soap, lots of soap! Kathy Winston, Sharon Wilkerson give their bars to cheerleaders Debby Douglas and Paula Odum.

Two "old gentlemen"—Dennis Miller and Gary Kearney—rested after strenuous square dancing at the Farmers' Ball.

Ingenious boys find there is always something to do at noon.

Important To Us!

Students welcomed the new Holiday Inn to town by trying out their pool.

Everybody danced, but Royla Loman and Sara Shutt had something to talk over.

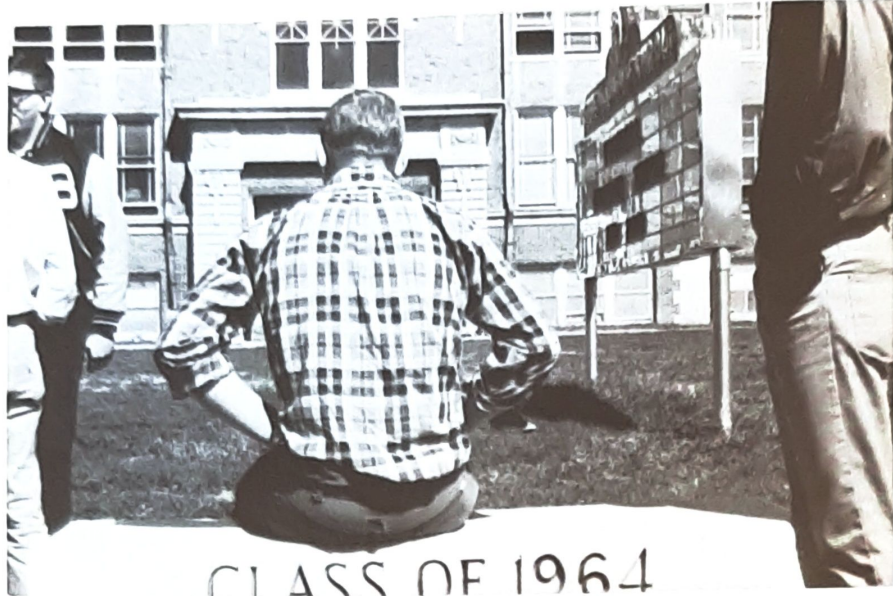

Toni Johnston and Marvin Gates sat out the last few dances.

The new "mod" hats were adopted by lots of the boys. John Willis led the way.

Daily Glimpses Tell The

CLASS OF 1964
Bill Martin was "all alone with his thoughts" on this day at noon.

The Freshman were eager to elect their class officers and begin their class activities.

The incidents of a typical day provide the background for school life is filled with many responsibilities and problems to solve. Moments of silence for thought and study provide an important part of a school day.

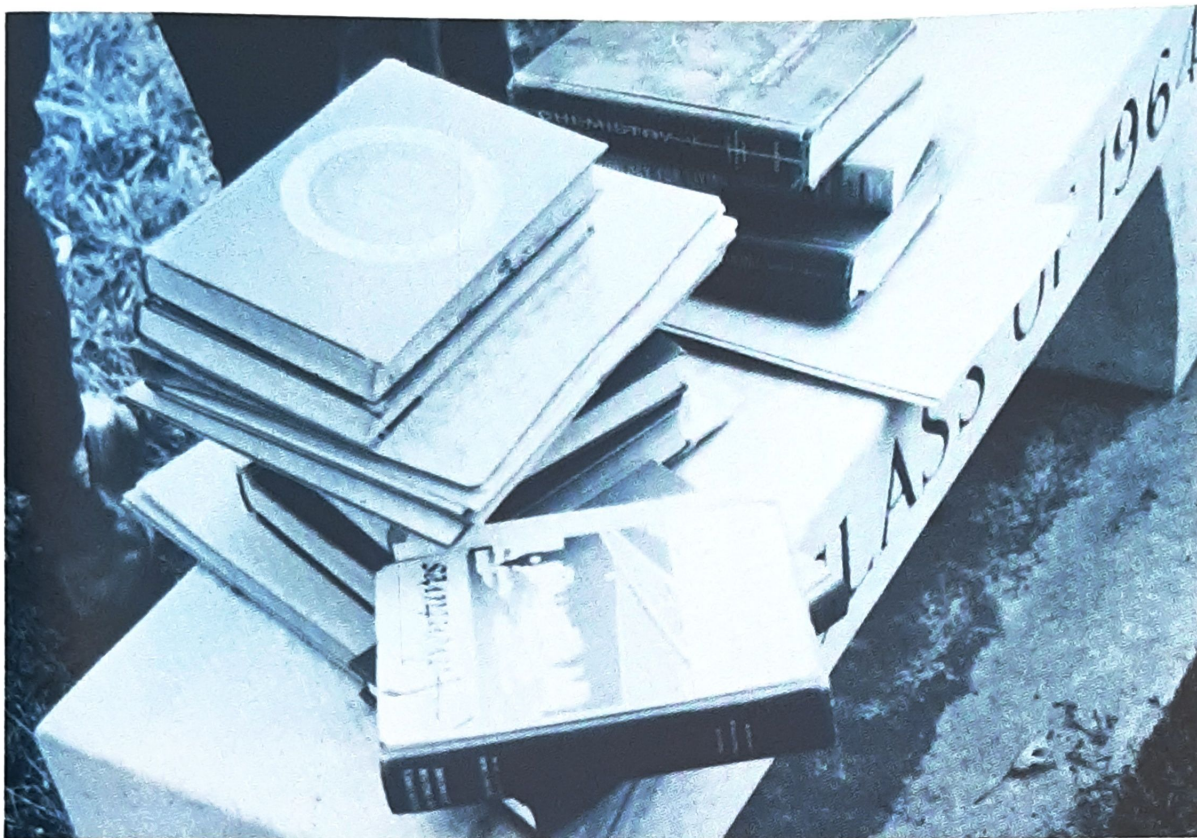

Shelia Lewis seems to be rubbing her hands in anticipation.

Wade Parkhill tackles his homework with vengeance. James Williams is occupied with other things.

School Story.

Problems in Democracy, Adventures in English Literature, Chemistry, Psychology for Living—these things occupy our day at school.

Danny Johnston makes a quick trip to his locker before sixth hour athletics.

John Skinion seems to have all his paraphernalia ready for a big study session.

School Occupied All Our Time.

Everyone who attended the Soap Game paid a bar of soap for admission, and Becca Edwards was no exception.

Archery made its appearance at our school this year. Brenda Walker, Susan Smothers, Mary Ann Hill, Cindy Fortman, Jean Gulley, and Patty Slayton tried their hand with bow and arrow.

Everyone had fun cheering on the Rangers, especially cheerleaders Betty Blondi, Kathleen Jenkins, Judy Treece, and Susan DeSett.

Noble Linn finds that an unusual hat is a mode of self-expression.

Warm fall days are conducive to daydreaming. Beckie Kimmel seems to be a million miles away.

Fall dances began with the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Bob Blondi seems to be paying admission for himself and Judi Webb to Mrs. Herbert Hall.

Varied Activities Filled The Day

Senior boys have a lot to talk over, and David Marsden seems to be getting his two cents' worth in.

Busy fall days marked the beginning of school. Every day was filled with many activities. These were dances, sports, classroom activities, gossiping, daydreaming, and just being yourself. The familiar incidents of each day brought enjoyment to each individual.

The speed-minded student always finds a motorcycle interesting.

Mrs. Frailey and Harlie Smith, sponsor and editor-in-chief, hiked up and down the hall on picture day getting Scarab pictures.

A freshman finds a shoulder to cry on.

Dennis Estes and Jeannie Berrong are hard at work. Royla Loman and Donna Atcheson seem to be finished.

Senior boys on a misty morning before school.

Typical Day

The Scarabs, the Linde-Stars, and the Leaves of Grass played for many of our school dances. They were great!

Christy Bowlin put her sentence diagram on the board in English Class.

C.I.P.S. put in underground lines. The activity caused much interest and curiosity.

Mr. Genesio helped Dale Marshal with his math homework at noon.

John Burlison and Christy Sadler found that Lake Benton is a beautiful place for a leisurely afternoon in the autumn.

A Date Is Important For Many School Affairs.

Denis Bacon and Vicki Smith had fun being crowned as Daisy Mae and Little Abner at the senior dance.

Conita Markel and Bill Lowery enjoy being together at noon. They discuss such things as basketball, trig, English, and each other, with a heavy emphasis on each other.

Couples Enjoy Being Together.

Iana Neal and Keith Ing braved the cold winter weather to be together at noon.

Linda Moore and Steve Friar sport look alike navy jackets. This is a popular way to identify couples who are going steady.

Students Spare No Effort To Make The Homecoming Setting The Loveliest Ever!

First of all the sign for "A Winter Night's Dream" was hung; Harlie Smith and Steve Norman attended to this problem.

Lucky students chosen from school clubs and other organizations to decorate for the dance were excused from school the week of Homecoming to perform their work. The gym was hub of excitement as they created the atmosphere of winter beauty. Trees were sprayed with snow. A snowman and his wife were formed to skate on a "lake" in the middle of the floor. The stage, the scene of the coronation, was a snowy wonderland with a bright moon draped in wispy clouds overhead.

Wispy clouds of blue net hovered over the moon. Seniors Greg Payne, Vicki Smith, and Kathy McAffos discussed how these "clouds" should look.

Betty Thompson, Becca Edwards, Evelyn Jankousky, and Joann Stewart sewed yards of cotton to the rail to make a "snowy" background.

The beautifully balanced stage was the result of much faculty help. Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Payne, and Mr. Talyor considered the arrangement.

Mr. Spees looks all alone here, doesn't he? He was really giving us a pep talk the night of the bonfire.

Senior boys and their dates might have been a bit nostalgic at their last Homecoming Bonfire.

There's something about a bonfire and a pep session that attracts a crowd.

Homecoming spirit began to mount on Tuesday night at the roaring bonfire rally at Linda Smith's farm. Students and alumni were there. Huge trees blazed away as we students sat on bales of hay and cheered the Rangers and responded to the pep talks by faculty and students. Before we left, we roasted hot dogs over the wonderful fire that was too good to waste. We hurried home for a few hours' rest and the last few duties before the next two days of fun.

It was a time for exchanging last bits of news before the big day tomorrow.

Coach Dudley recognized senior Rangers who would play their last high school game on Thanksgiving.

Steve Norman, our Student Council President, and the West Frankfort student body president extend the challenge for the big game.

Our Parade Was A Hit! Everyone Turned Out For It!

The varsity cheerleaders led off the parade.

A chariot race between the Ranger Roman and the Redbird Roman left the Redbirds far behind.

The Senior Class car entry won first prize with a "Deliver Us Victory" slogan.

The Ranger Band is a must for all big occasions! They looked good!

"We Can Can Beat the Redbirds" won a first place for the G.A.A. girls.

The Chorus entry, "Hold That Line," was interesting.

Junior girls urged the Rangers to "Go Get 'em!"

That Important Evening Had Arrived!

Three light-hearted couples enjoy the romantic atmosphere of Homecoming evening.

Last year's co-captains, Kenny Payne and Greg Cima, prepare to walk retiring Queen Denise Chancey from her throne.

Robert Mick, Jane Bailey, Denny Benns, and Patty Krause can't decide whether they want to sit one out.

Individual achievement and group achievement are important in our school's philosophy of education. In way of recognition of those who have excelled in their endeavor, we present them on this page.

Individual Important

Richard Yunkus, captain of the Ranger basketball team, was chosen All-American, All-State member of the all-tournament team at Centralia, and the most valuable player of the Centralis Tournament.

Roger Webb and Randy Young received Letters of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Foundation.

The Evansville Courier and Press named Jim Bennis and Warren Rice to their All-conference South Seven Football Team.

Achievement Is In Education

Marcia Davis was chosen historian of the month and her essay was printed in Illinois History.

Pictured here with the first place trophies in the Centralia Holiday Tournament and Quad City Classic are the Benton Rangers basketball team. Kneeling are: Richard Hendrix, Russell Hargraves, and Kirby Williams. 1st Row: David Choisser, Dennis Miller, John Burlison, Danny Johnson, Jerry Hoover, and Gary Kearney. 2nd Row: Bill Lowery, Greg Fustin, Richard Yunkus, Bruce Taylor, Richard Corn, and Coach Rich Herrin. They finished the season as the conference winners with an undefeated season—a second consecutive year for this unusual achievement.

Cindy Paxton was a state officer in F.H.A. and she won the Betty Crocker Award.

Senior Thespians Present

The sheriff (John Pinson) listens attentively as Mrs. Siltan (Sandy German) clears up the mystery of the first Thursday murder. Bingo Riggs (Harlie Smith) and Christine Halversen (Betty Blondi) listen to the sad story.

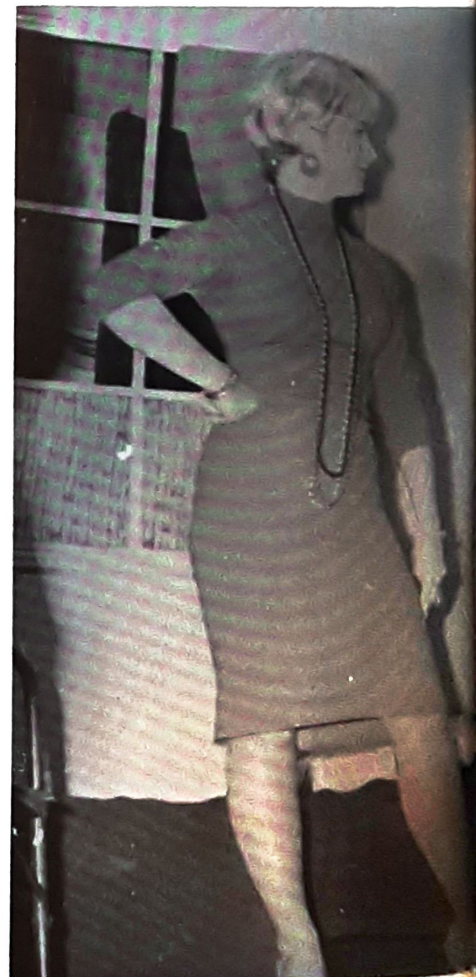

The sheriff (John Pinson) gets an unwelcome scowl from Chris Halosen (Greg Payne) and his wife (Linda Smith) when he arrives at an unwelcome time.

A typical gangster, professor (Randall Burgess) seems to enjoy pointing his rifle at people.

Looking like an innocent farmer, it's no wonder no one thought that Chris Havorsen (Greg Payne) was the murderer.

Lil (Kathleen Jenkins) and Ruby (Marty Summers), two gangsters molls, and their friend (Jack Mohr) barge into the shack looking for the lost gold.

"The Thursday Murders."

Aunt Hester (Kathy McAfoos) verbally attacks the Sheriff (John Pinson).

The Senior Play was presented on Dec. 4, 1966. The big day was awaited by the whole cast which had spent nearly a month practicing. The play was directed by Mr. Max Lane. The cast consisted of Harlie Smith, Bingo Riggs; Bob Lewis, Handsome Kusak; Betsy Bennett, Henrietta Siller; Kathleen Jenkins, Lil; Marty Summers, Ruby; Sandy German, Mrs. Sillers; Greg Payne, Chris Halvorsen; Linda Smith, Annie Halvorsen; Betty Blondi, Christine Halvorse; Jack Mohr, Terrie; Randy Burgess, Professor; Kathy McAfoos Aunt Hester; Neva Behm, Gussie; and Brenda Bolen, tourist.

Bingo Riggs (Harlie Smith) tries to comfort Christine Halvorsen (Betty Blondi) as she tells about being bound and gagged as some strange people searched her house.

Popular Neva Behm and Jerry Hoover were chosen Scarab Royalty King and Queen.

Popular Students Are Named To Scarab Royalty Court.

Judy Barton and John Kasky were selected by the Freshman Class as attendants.

Scarab Royalty King and Queen and attendants are chosen from a vote of the entire student body on the basis of popularity. All classes vote on the king and queen, and individual classes choose their attendants to the court. The announcement of Scarab Royalty is one of the much-anticipated disclosures found in the Scarab each year.

The juniors selected Janet Frailey and Dick Corn as their class's Scarab Royalty attendants.

Betsy Bennett and Richard Yunkus were chosen to represent the Senior Class in the Scarab Royalty court.

Debby Jones and Mark Kays were the Sophomore Class Scarab Royalty.

Richard Yunkus—athlete, Mu Alpha Theta treasurer, Scarab Royalty.

Neva Behm—Homecoming Queen, Scarab Royalty Queen, Hi-Tri president, class officer.

Faculty Names Twelve As Outstanding Seniors From The Class Of 1967.

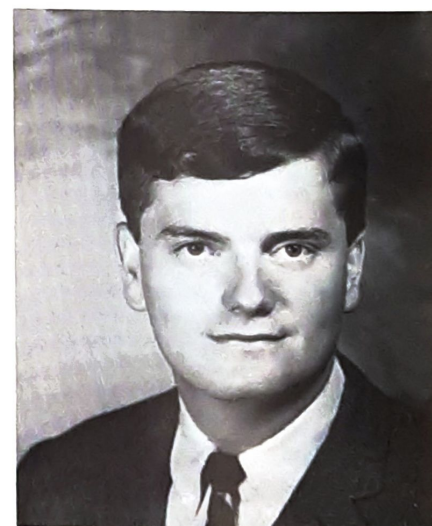

The seniors chosen as Outstanding Seniors and pictured on this page represent the best qualities of students in the areas of leadership, scholarship, appropriate attitude, personality, character and participation in school activities.

Mr. Genisio, the faculty, and office staff selected these students by secret ballot in which they voted for ten students. Each student chosen received at least one third of the votes cast.

The names of the students chosen are carefully guarded until the Scarabs are distributed in the spring. The honor of being chosen an Outstanding Senior is one of the most prized honors a senior of B.C.H.S. can receive.

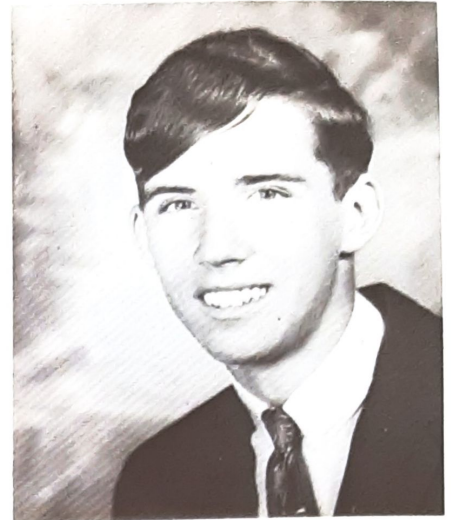

Linda Smith—scholar, Latin Club vice-president.

Debby Treadwell—Echo news editor, F.T.A. president, Scarab assistant editor.

John Burlison—Junior Class secretary, athlete.

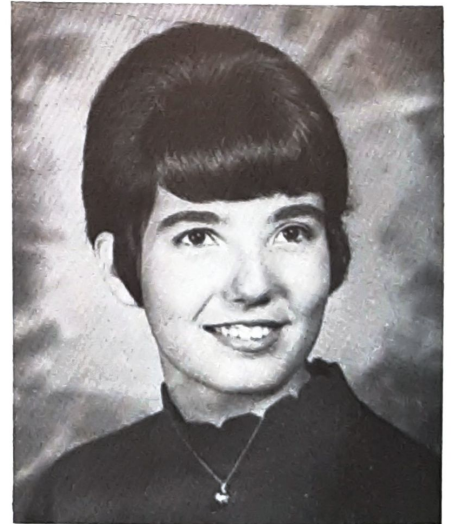

Mary Gulley—scholar, Mu Alpha Theta vice-president, Make-up Club president.

Cindy Paxton—F.H.A. vice-president, Betty Crocker award winner, leader, essayist.

Jerry Hoover—football co-captain, Scarab Royalty king, class officer.

Kathy McAfoos—scholar, Echo feature editor, Girl Scout leader.

Board Of Education Undertake

The Board of Education began a curriculum and building survey under the direction of Southern Illinois University this year. This evaluation will help the board in making decisions concerning the school in the future. The board also added an Arts and Crafts class to the high school curriculum under joint sponsorship with the federal government. The scope of education is broadly expanding and the board is keeping abreast with all the latest changes in an effort to keep the educational aspects of our school at a high level.

Mr. Frank Payne, Benton School Board president, points out an important fact to Mr. Genisio during a discussion.

School Evaluation Survey.

The members of the Benton High School Board of Education are as follows: Clarence Lowery, Virgil Bolen, Wallace C. Rice (secretary), Wm. Frank Payne (President), Dr. William Swinney, Dr. Harry Lewis, and Dr. Lewis Smith.

This is Mr. Genesio's second year at B.C.H.S. He has set high standards for our school so that we students can receive the best education possible. We have found that Mr. Genesio appreciates us and believes that fun should be included with our work.

PRINCIPAL BARNEY P. GENESIO

Mr. Claude Rhodes assists Mr. Genesio in the activities of keeping our school efficient.

There's always much paper work, Mr. Genisio finds, as reports to many agencies must be completed.

B.C.H.S. Administration Works Closely With Students, For Effective Education.

The office is the center of school business. Mr. Genisio and Mr. Rhodes and the staff attend to the heavy traffic of students, teachers and the public and keep school matters moving smoothly.

This year they are occupied by an extra task—the completion of a complete study of our school by both S.I.U. and the North Central Association. This study will lead to a greater job, perhaps, when the suggestions recommended by the study will be utilized to make changes in the school so that it might be more effective.

Mr. Genesio is often seen on the grounds and in the halls as he takes time to talk to the students.

Business

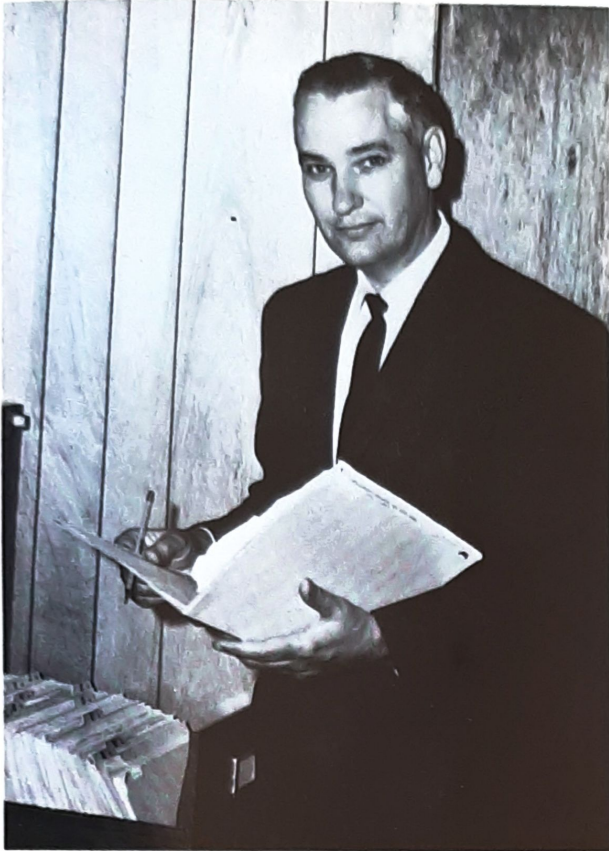

Because business in the U.S. is growing by leaps and bounds, courses in typing, shorthand, and clerical office practice are becoming more and more important in the world today. Many girls each year choose to enter a secretarial career, and they must be taught to be adept in taking dictation, typing business letters, and keeping records. Learning to operate business machines is also an important training to future secretaries since machines are very numerous in business offices today.

Our school seeks to improve each year the student service in guidance. Testing in many areas aids counselors in directing students in their studies here at school and in their plans after graduation. Guidance help is accessible to all students at all times for any school problem that needs attention.

Editor-in-chief Harlie Smith dedicated a lot of work for this year's book.

Scarab Records The History Of The School Year

Feature editor Sandra Seibert was responsible for all the collecting and editing the copy in this book. Kathy McAfoos counted all the money that made this book possible. Mrs. Frailey is the advisor.

Debby Treadwell, ass't senior ed.; Randy Young, lay-out Ed.; and Karen Munoz, Jr. ass't ed. were invaluable aids to the editor in turning out the Scarab.

Getting the Scarab ready for publication has become a year-round job at our school. New staffs begin planning next year's annual as soon as positions are announced in the spring. Summer planning sessions begin the frame work of the book. Ad solicitors begin their task of selling ads in August so that the budget can be set up and the size of the book and the "extras" may be decided upon. Deadlines follow deadlines as the editor and assistant editors work during fifth hour each day and after school as needed to prepare pages for the printers. Photographers are on the job constantly as they attempt to record life as it is at B.C.H.S. Feature writers turn in copy; layouts are made, and suddenly it's March 1, and the Scarab is complete. There's a new staff to help with the summer supplement and then to go on to their job to make their annual the best of all.

Photographer Chester Razer, sports editor ed. Greg Payne, and photographer Joe Bortoletto supplied a most necessary part of the book.

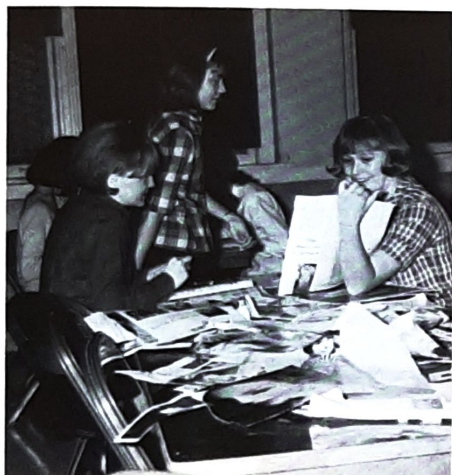

Feature writers Evelyn Jankousky, Christy Sadler, Ilana Neal, Janet Frailey, Becky McCollum, Kathy Hamilton used their writing skills to make the written parts of the Scarab effective records of the year.

Tersea Clark, Becky Miller and Linda Beaty make Homecoming posters.

Sports staff consists of Brandy Hill, Mark Ponder, Becky Miller, and John Aiken.

Twenty-five volunteer workers make up the Echo staff which is "the voice of the school." Interest is always keen on "paper" mornings as students receive their Echoes.

Reporters find that through the responsibility of writing news items regularly their writing skills become more refined, and those English themes are not as difficult to write as they were.

This year's paper has been one that the staff could be proud of as the lively co-editors and writers have added pages, more pictures, and much more interesting variety to its columns.

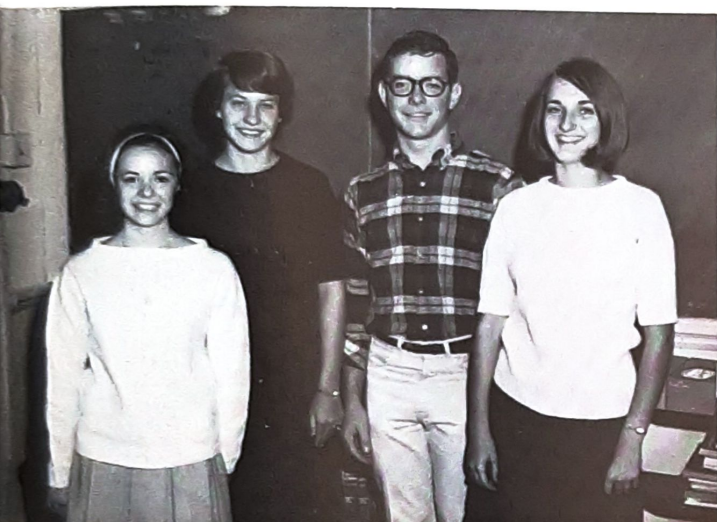

The News Staff consists of Becky McCollum, Paula Dinkins, Debby Treadwell, news editor, Becky Smith, Nancy Taylor, Sandra DeMatti, Sally Nowikowski, and Cathy Hamilton.

The feature staff consists of Janet Frailey; Jackie Stewart; Barb Modglin; Kathy McAfoos, feature editor; Harlie Smith; Ronnie Hansen; Mary Rea; Ruth Fun-canon; Nacny Taylor; and Onedia Miller.

"Where did you spend your vacation?" ... "What do you think of the Mini skirts?" ... "What is the most exciting thing that has happened to you?" ... "What about the Spring Concert? Where and when will it be?" ... These are the oft-heard questions of Echo reporters "after the story."

The business staff consists of Elaine Baburnich, Christy Sadler, Bob Lewis, and Evelyn Jankousky.

The co-editors are Greg Payne and Brenda Bolen.

The typists are Debbie Hammond, Tersea Clark, Linda Beaty, Dainne Kinkade, and Peggy Barton.

Hi-Tri Is For Every Girl.

Beckie Kimmel, secretary; Kathleen Jenkins, v-pres.; Miss Armentrout, sponsor; Neva Behm, pres. and Betty Blondi, treas. are the officers this year.

Judy Herbek, Mary Anne Hill, Karen Munoz, Martha Skinner, Kathy Wells, Dianne Kinkade, Mary Lou Gulley, Betsy Bennett, Christy Hill, Judy Barton, Sara Shutt, Sharon Wilkerson, Patty Norman and Cherri Tindall are on the council.

A large number of B.C.H.S. girls are involved in Hi-Tri activities. Three busloads of girls attended the Fall Conference in Belleville. Freshmen girls were initiated into the club in October in the traditional ceremony for all girls and their mothers. Spring conference was fun, and senior girls bade a sentimental good-by at the Mother-Daughter Banquet in May. Hi-Tri girls take the lead in Homecoming decorations and are responsible for the beautiful Christmas tree in the hall in December. Neva Behm was state Hi-Tri vice-president.

F.H.A. Girls Have Many Activities.

The Board Members are Kathy Stewart, Holly Jones, Peggy Hitt, Cheryl Whittington, Judy Treece, Marcia Davis and Carla Little.

Donna Wiggins and her mother enjoy the delicious food at Daughter-Date Night.

A large, lively crowd of girls and their parents were in attendance at the October meeting of the Future Homemakers Association, as the members and their guests enjoyed a sumptuous pot luck dinner. The audience was generous in applause after the dinner when the girls displayed various talents on the stage in the Old Gym. G.A.A. and F.H.S collaborated on the first-place float in the Homecoming parade—"We Can Can Beat the Red Birds" and had a big part in Homecoming decorations too. In February the club presented a semi-formal dance with the Key Club with the theme "Cupid's Capers." There was a spring fashion show, and sophomores served at the Junior-Senior Reception. The busy year closed with the formal installation for incoming officers.

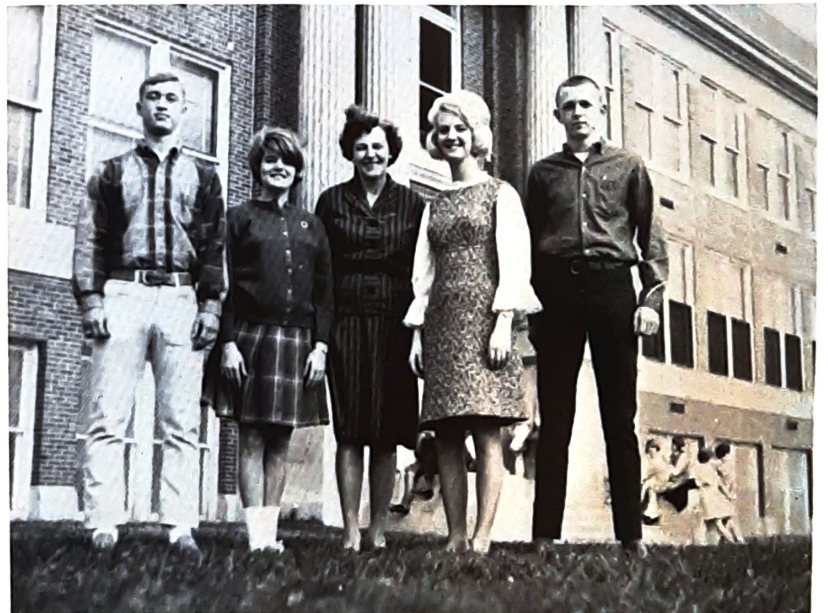

The Student Council effectively deals with school problems.

Student Council Considers Changes In Homecoming Policy.

Students of B.C.H.S. take part in and share the responsibility in school government by electing a student council of students. The student council supports school activities and works for the welfare of the school.

The council arranges for the election of class officers. They announce the time of elections, print the ballots, place the voting booths, handle the election, count the votes, and announce the new officers. They are also in charge of Homecoming decorations and in charge of ticket sales.

This year one of the main problems discussed by the Student Council was whether or not the method of selecting Homecoming queen should be changed. For many years, the queen has been selected by a secret vote of football players; some students think that the queen should be selected by all members of the student body.

Student Council officers are Steve Norman, pres.; Betty Blondi, sec.; Miss Kirsch, Sherry Odum, treas.; and Dick Corn, v.-pres.

Membership In National Honor Society Rewards Student Scholars.

The sponsors are Mr. Rhodes, Mrs. Craddock, and Mr. Gulley.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based on the ideals of scholarship, character, leadership and service. Thirty-two seniors are members of the society. They were chosen at the end of their junior year. During the second semester, juniors who had a 4.0 average or better submitted applications and were then voted upon by the teachers. The students who were voted into the society were initiated in May and were entertained with their parents at a tea following the ceremony.

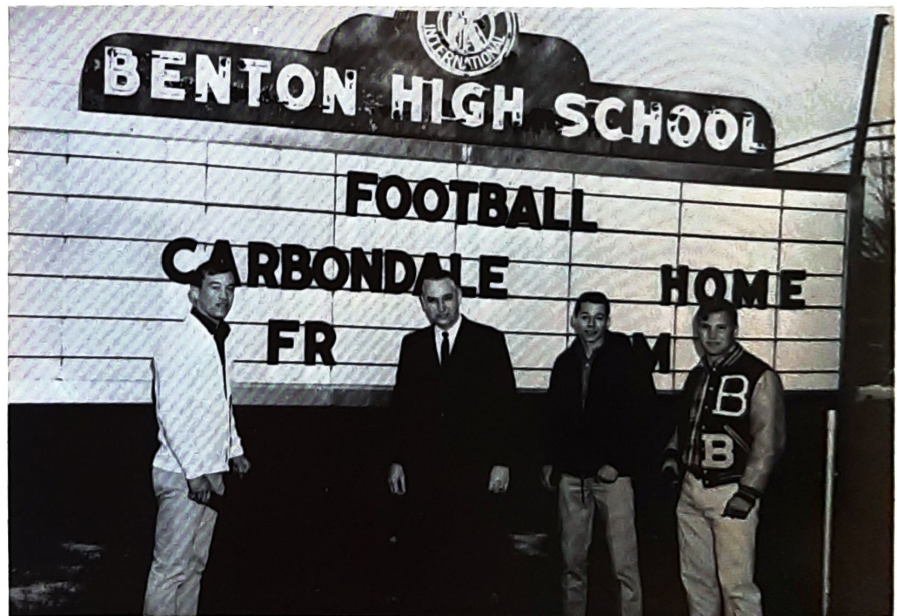

Key Club members attended planning sessions for the Valentine dance they co-sponsored with the F.H.A.

Key Club Aids In Heart And Cancer Fund Drives.

Kiwanis - sponsored Key Club handled a busy schedule this year as the boys participated in worthwhile community projects and drives—the Heart Fund, Cancer drive, and March of Dimes. “Cupid Capers,” a valentine dance, was fun in February. The school sign in front of the school kept us and the community posted on coming events at our school.

The Key Club officers are: Steve Norman, vice-president; Mr. Gulley, sponsor; Jerry Hoover, president; and Warren Rice, secretary-treasurer.

Students

Members of the Future Teachers of America became teachers to grade school children this year. They helped them with their homework once a week. Mrs. Finley, a grade school teacher, assigned small children to F.T.A. members who were interested in helping them. The club had programs every month with special speakers concerning college and teaching. Mrs. Kohler of our faculty gave an interesting program, and alums came back to tell of experiences in college. F.T.A. officers served as guides for Open House during National Education Week. The club undertook many profitable projects in order to finance a scholarship for one of the senior members of the club who plans to become a teacher.

The officers are Pat Deitz, V-president; Marty Summers, historian; Connie Cushman, parl.; Christy Sadler, treasurer; Debby Treadwell, president; and Karen Munoz, sec.

Some college students came back to tell the members what college life is really like.

The F.T.A.'ers listen to Mrs. Koller tell about the different phases in physical education training.

The officers are Vicki Smith, president; Dianne Kinkade, treasurer; Margaret McClerren, secretary; Sharon Saunders, vice-president; and Karen Miller, reporter.

FBLA Members Prepare For Secretarial Work.

The FBLA added to the Homecoming spirit with the sign, "Rangers Beat the RED-BIRDS," for their Homecoming Project.

The girls of the Future Business Leaders of America plan their activities with an eye to their future in the business world. Speakers who have a pertinent message for them are guests at their meetings, and there are always refreshments and social activity along with the program. The girls added to the Homecoming atmosphere with a huge cloth banner, "Rangers, Beat the Redbirds," which they hung across the front of the school.

F.N.C. Girls Work At Hospital.

The F.N.C. officers are as follows: Lorrie McCann, treas.; Elaine Baburnich, sec.; Miss AdKisson, sponsor; Betsy Bennett, pres.; Neva Behm, v.-pres.

Future Nurses Club girls were busy with many projects of health in our community. Girls worked as volunteers at the hospital and nursing home, and the girls took gifts to residents of the Skilled Nursing Unit of the Franklin Hospital. The club was a part of all community health fund drives. The spring dinner and initiation with mothers present was a happy evening.

The F.N.C. girls helped Miss Paxton, the school nurse, as she checked the sight of the students in school.

The F.N.C. board members are Roberta Basham, Brenda Bolen, Lora Skinner, Susan Summers, and Barbara Modglin.

The F.N.C. girls met at noon on Friday.

Hi-Y Delegates. Attend Youth- In-Government Program At State Capitol

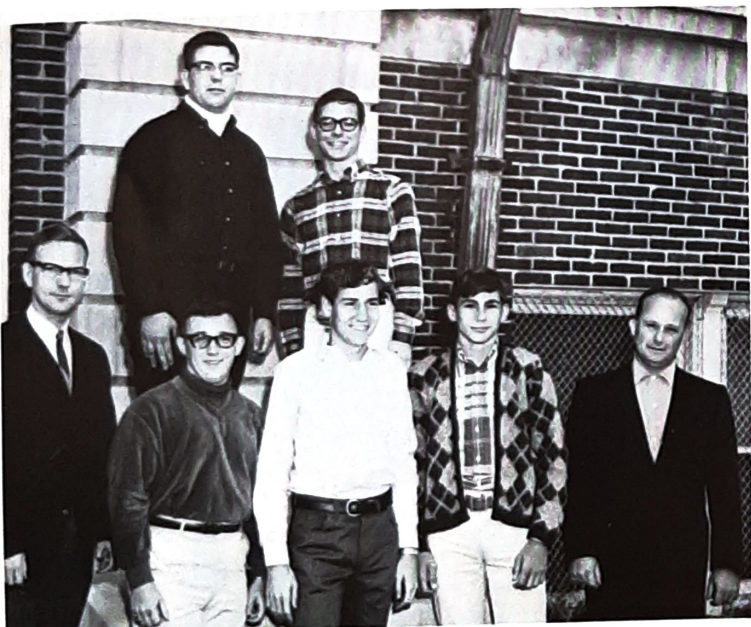

Members of the local Hi-Y organization in our school attended a youth-in-government conference in Springfield this spring. In preliminary meetings leading up to the conference, important state officials were elected by those attending. Local chapter president, Bob Lewis, ran for the honored position of governor. He lost by two votes to a boy from Carbondale.

Hi-Y is a service club, and one of its most important functions this year was providing ushers for the home basketball games. The ushers handed out programs and seated guests.

Mr. Spicer, a new member of the high school faculty, cosponsored the Hi-Y with Mr. Ed Miller.

Hi-Y member, Charlie Sullivan, took his turn at being an usher at a home ballgame. He is shown handing Dianne Kinkade a basketball program.

Stage Appearances Perfected By Make — Up Club

Members of the Make-up Club cause the faces of junior and senior actors to look authentic for the parts they play in the class plays. This can be a very messy job, but the girls enjoy it. They have a lot of fun changing the visages of their teenage friends into younger people or older people or even people of different races. Two girls from each freshman class are chosen to membership, and they remain in the club for four years.

The following Make-Up Club members are: 1st Row: Mary Lou Gulley, Kathy Wells, Jean Ann Corn, Kris Hill, Mary Anne Hill, Kathleen Jenkins. 2nd Row: Debbie Jones, Paula Dinkins, Mary Jane Kimmel, Paula Odom, Susan DeSett, Donna Green.

The senior members of the Make-up Club are: Kathy Wells, Mary Lou Gulley, Pres., Kathleen Jenkins. They keep the club moving smoothly.

Mu Alpha Theta Members Broaden Knowledge.

Mu Alpha Theta is the international honor society for honor math students in high school and junior college. Students must maintain a B or better average for membership. The club studied the more interesting aspects of mathematics field during regular meetings. Students were in charge of programs that explained the position of importance mathematics will take in occupations of tomorrow. The members enjoyed a merry Christmas party, as well as the initiation party for the new junior members.

Martha Skinner receives her certificate of membership into Mu Alpha Theta from Pres. Roger Webb as Mr. Genisio looks on.

The Library Club is small. They help Mrs. Little in the Study Hall during school and before. The girls work during their free period. The members pictured here are Sandra Johnson, Carla Little, and Connie Kinson and Mrs. Little.

Library Club And Camera Club Are Opportunities For Learning And Service

The Camera Club is a new club this year. They learn through demonstrations and lectures from Mr. Taylor. The officers pictured here are Chester Razor, president; Randy Young, v-pres; Marcia Davis, secretary; and Cathy McCreedy, treasurer.

Promising Linguists Join French Club.

Money making projects were planned by the French Club to pay Mrs. Marie Whittington, a French native, to come to class once a week to give oral instruction in French. They made masks at Halloween and had a successful bake sale.

French Club membership is made up of students who have had or are having French. Each year they take the National French test. The student who scores highest has his name engraved on the French Club plaque hanging in Mr. Shepard's room.

The French Club officers for this year are: Mr. Shepard, sponsor; Frank Lewis, pres.; Judy Webb, sec; Harlie Smith, v.-pres; Beth Eldridge, librarian; and Cheryl Whittington, treas.

The French Club engaged in various moneymaking projects throughout the year. The picture above shows Kathy Harvey, Lora Skinner, Mr. Shepard, Mickey Sassano, Beth Eldridge, John Moore, Linda Page, Judy Webb, and Frank Lewis helping make paper mache masks that were put on sale just before Halloween.

The Romans have a festive banquet as the slaves wait on them at the Saturnalia.

Latin II students had waited for a year to qualify as guests at the club's Saturnalia in early December. Club members, clad in togas, lounged on the floor at low tables as slaves (Latin I honor students) served them Roman delicacies—barbequed chicken, carrots and celery sticks and grapes.

The gala evening was one of the most fun-filled events of the year.

Two "Romans" participated in the Homecoming parade driving chariots in a race between a Ranger and a Red Bird warrior.

G.A.A. Girls Keep Fit

The annual Buddy Hike began a busy season for GAA girls as they and their buddies headed for the forestry.

Buddy hikes, basketball, volleyball, and archery tournaments, parties, bake sales at noon, bowling and active projects of all kinds keep GAA girls hopping! Their bulletin board keeps us aware of the next events as activity follows activity. GAA'ers know that physical activities relieve the tension of the day's mental work in the classroom.

The F.F.A. Farmer's Ball ended with the naming of the Farmer's Ball King and Queen and their court. Brenda Kays, Linda Kays, Sherry Odum, Betty Blondi, Queen Marcia Davis, King Bob Cook, Delbert Karn, Gary Kearney, and David McLearn were the members of this year's court.

F.F.A. Sponsors Farmers' Ball.

The F.F.A. officers are as follows: Larry Beatty, reporter; Bob Cook, pres.; David McLearn, v.-pres.; Bruce Rogers, sentinel; Gordon Smith, sec; Kenny Craig, treas.; and Mr. Finley, sponsor.

The Future Farmers of America boys take time for lots of fun in addition to the heavy schedule of agricultural shows and contests that they participate in. The Farmers' Ball, in conjunction with the Future Homemakers of America, is their "social" event of the year. There is a king and queen, square dancing, and much revelry of this night. The school is aware of freshman initiation time when freshmen members come to school dressed as "farmers."

Don Smith, a freshman, takes part in F.F.A. initiation by dressing up as a farmer.

History Club Delves Into Our Heritage.

During the past year many History Club members have been busy writing essays for possible publications in the Illinois History Magazine. In April the History Club held a very successful chili supper and later attended the regional meeting at Chester. Local club members were successful in many entries in the essay competition, as well as in other divisions.

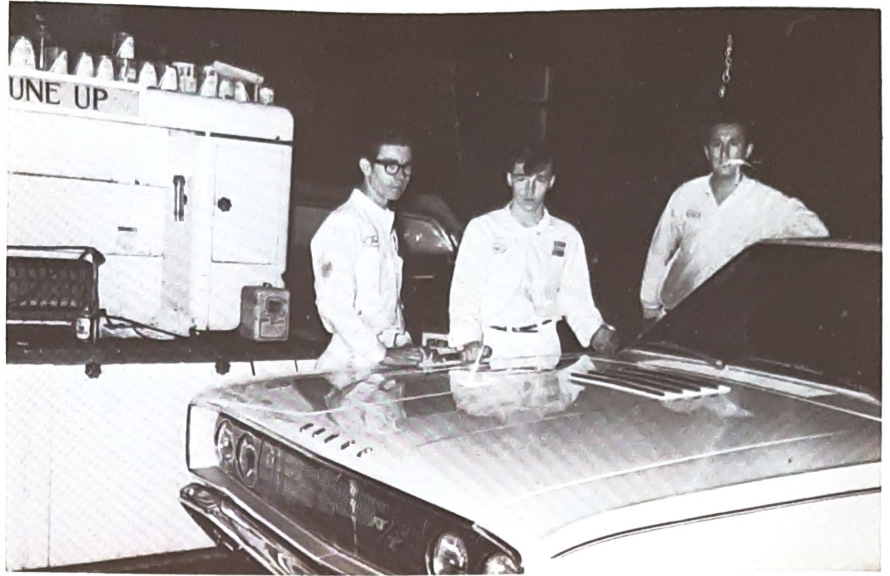

Here are a few of the History Club members who had fun getting ready for the Christmas party.

Essay winners, Sharon Adkins, Martha Skinner, Mickey Sassano and Danny Johnson hope to have their essays published.

D.O. Students Are Enthusiastic

Our students in Diversified Occupations have the opportunity to work a half day for businesses in Benton as they go to school for a half day. They can explore these fields as possible future occupations while earning money for this on-the-job training. They consider their positions as golden opportunities.

Tom Somers learns the business of lumbering at McCreedy's.

Dennis Stowers serves a customer at the meat department at Bolen's.

Chorus Members Find Harmony Fun

Contests, concerts, and hayrides are only a few of the many activities of the Chorus. Daily rehearsals lead to concerts at Christmas and in the spring, as well as to other appearances. Many of the chorus members attend the Fall Vocal Clinic at SIU in the fall and again in the spring the Music Under the Stars festival, where they enjoy the thrill of singing in huge choirs of young singers from all over Southern Illinois. Their final appearance is always a nostalgic one—graduation.

Mr. Taylor directs the practice session.

Conita Markel, Sandy German, and Marcia Davis accompany the chorus.

Kathleen Jenkins, cheerleading captain, and Evelyn Jankousky led countless cheers during the basketball season as our Rangers continued their long winning streak.

Benton High School students found that ball-games were unusually exciting and breathtaking this year since so many teams tried to upset us.

Large crowds, such as the one above, braved cold weather, long lines, and waiting in the dusk to get into the gym. As the season advanced, it became necessary to come earlier and earlier to insure getting a good seat, but it was worth it. It's not often you get a chance to see the number-one-ranked basketball power in the state in action.

School Spirit Also Deserves Number One Rating In Polls.

Betty Blondi, who is in the foreground, leads the student body in "Benton Loyalty".

School spirit was at an all time high this year. Proud of having the number-one-ranked basketball power in the state for the second straight year, the fans enthusiastically supported the Rangers during the regular season. Although the size of the gym was prohibitive, large crowds attended the home games. The fans cheered the Rangers during the final stretch of the season as they insured their chances of winning the South Seven Conference race for the second straight year.

Ranger defense in action!

Ranger Success

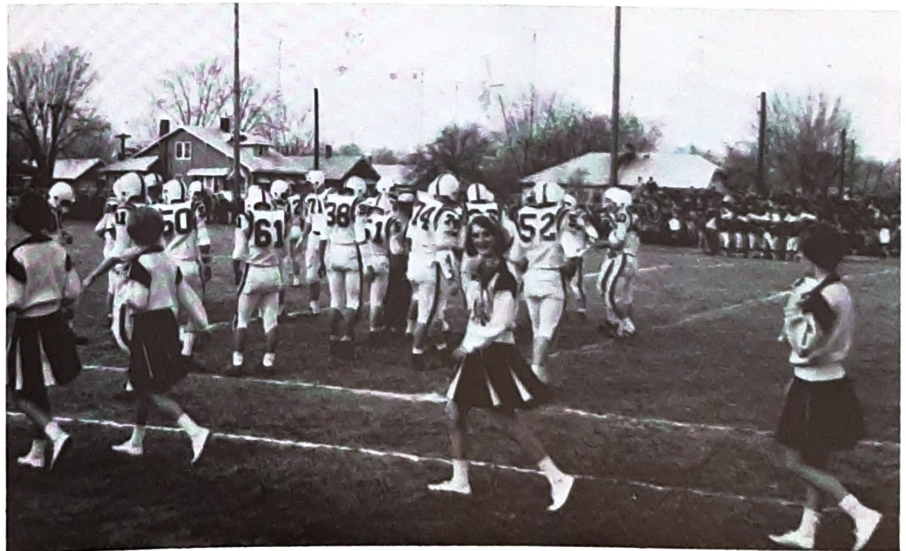

Mike Dorris, Dennis Miller, David Holman, Bill Martin, Dennis Bacon, John Skinnion, Randy Dudley, coach; Moose Phillips, coach.

The 1966 Benton Rangers under the tutelage of coaches Randy Dudley and Moose Phillips completed a season marked with joy and frustration. The Rangers got off to a flying start by defeating Sparta, Metropolis, and Marion before dropping a thrilling game to the Indians of Du-Quoin. After dropping their first game in four contests, the Rangers dumped a spirited team from Herrin 20-6. Then came a crucial blow to the Rangers as they lost their next three conference games before bouncing back to defeat Harrisburg on Veterans Day. The Rangers were then defeated by Frankfort in the annual Turkey Day Classic, thus ending their season with a 5-5 record.

Defense was the key to the Ranger team of '66, and defensive players Jimmy Benns and Warren Rice were honored by being selected to the All-South-Seven Conference Team. Jerry Hoover also was heralded along with John Dinkins, Roy Parker, Steve Norman, and Rich Shaw.

Perhaps other squads will be remembered for their winning records, conference titles or other honors, but the 1966 Benton Rangers will be remembered for the fighting spirit they displayed every time they took the field. Win or lose the '66 Rangers were outstanding for their sportsmanship and tremendous will to win.

Ranger Sophs. in Soap Game in which they tied, 6-6

The Sophomore Rangers completed a rugged schedule this season and ended up with a 5-4-1 record. In addition to the tough competition the sophs were up against, injuries and flu also hampered them.

Sophomore David Holman was placed on the Ranger varsity squad because of his outstanding performances but saw limited action because of an injury. Dan Malkovich also was placed on the varsity where he saw action. The experience these two fine athletes gained will be an asset when they begin varsity play next year. Mike Gunter, Jim Toms, Laird Wisely, Ricky Rusher, and Bill Mitchell were also key players for Coach Hungate's Jr. Rangers.

The fighting freshmen Rangers under the coaching of Rich Herrin, supported the best record of the three football teams here at BCHS with an impressive 7 and 2 season. This record is enough to speak for itself and can also be a preview of what to expect in the future.

The freshmen displayed both tough offense in beating Frankfort 30-21 and Herrin 21-19 and tight defense in the 13-0 victory over the Rams of Mt. Vernon. Fine Ranger players such as John Kasky, Brett Hall, Jeff Cohoon, Jim Hamilton, John Munoz, and Mark Joplin helped the Rangers achieve their impressive record.

Benton's tough press proved valuable many times as the Ranger foes were forced to give up the ball due to the ten second ruling. Cowboy John Burlison and Jerry Hoover are caught in a hectic moment in the all important Carbondale game.

Ranger Twin Towers Rich Yunkus and Greg Fustin made it rough for an opponent to get through for an easy layin. The cowboy combination of Yunkus, Fustin, and Johnson bottle up an opening during the Mt. Vernon encounter.

Rated the Number 1 prep team in Illinois for two consecutive seasons and amassing another undefeated year of 25-0 are two feats of Benton's heralded Rangers. Besides accomplishing the feats above, the Rangers won their second consecutive Centralia Holiday Tournament crown, becoming the fourth team in history to win titles back to back. Coach Herrin's Cowboys also won their second Quad City Tournament in a row, but the thrill of the season came when Benton won its second consecutive South Seven Conference crown by downing Carbondale's towering Terriers, 72-71 in an overtime battle between two of the state's top powers that saw ardent fans line up for a four-hour wait at the Ranger gym.

The Rangers, who have a 50-0 regular season slate and a 28-0 South Seven Conference mark over the past two years, were guided to these fantastic records by a gentleman who put Benton on the basketball map, Coach Rich Herrin. In his coaching career at Benton, Mr. Herrin has produced teams that have broken almost every basketball record here in Ranger Country.

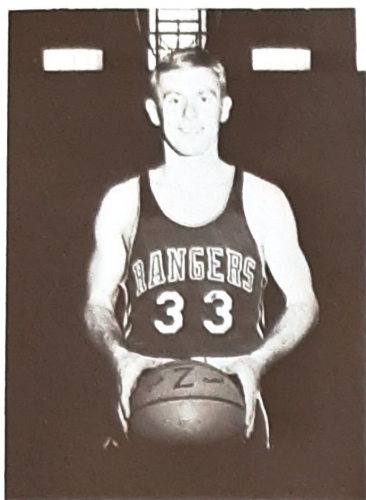

This year's Ranger quintet was famous for its "team victories", because each boy added an individual attribute in the Cowboy's success: Greg Fustin's stretch layins, Bill Lowery's tremendous rebounding ability, Rich Yunkus' smooth jump shots, John Burlison's exceptional shooting, Danny Johnson's pass wizardry, and Jerry Hoover's ball handling. Dick Corn and Bruce Taylor provided the reserve punch when it was needed.

Displaying a defense that seemed almost impregnable at times and an offense that was state-wide acclaimed as one of the best was the Rangers' key to success. Like last year's fighting five, the '67 Rangers' outstanding quality was unselfishness. Each player of the greatest team to represent Benton seemed to have one thought on his mind—Victory—and good shots were constantly passed up for better ones.

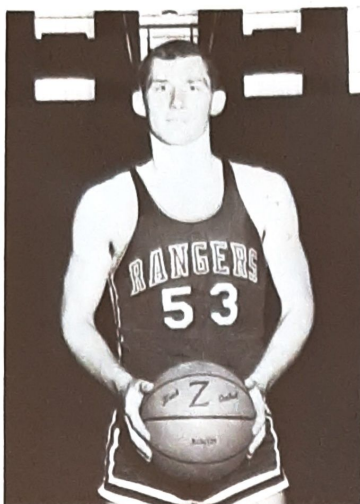

Having almost every Ranger player in on rebounding made Benton's defense one of the toughest in the state. Rangers Rich Yunkus, John Burlison, Bill Lowery and Jerry Hoover fight for a rebound during the Carbondale game.

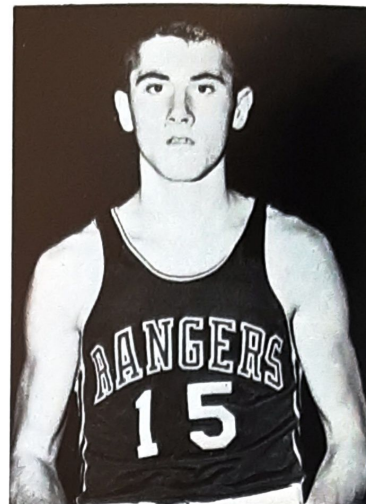

Our offense was state acclaimed as one of the best due to the tremendous jumping capability of all Ranger starters. John Burlison stuffs in two while Terrier L. C. Brasfield hopes for a quick rebound as Ranger Rich Yunkus and Carbondale Peaches Laster eye the action.

Illinois' top-ranked basketball team, the Benton Rangers, opened tournament play at the Frankfort Regional by downing the out-manned Christopher Bearcats in a game that was never in doubt. The 109-32 victory tied the scoring mark the high-flying Rangers set in the Centralia Tournament win over Highland. In the semi-final's 34-point margin, again the Ranger's second squad saw most of the action. The Championship game pitted the South Seven Champions against DuQuoin which the Rangers had handled easily only a week before in the season finale. Before a packed gymnasium, Benton grabbed an early lead and Coach Herrin's fabulous five won their twenty-eighth victory without a loss along with the coveted Regional Tournament title.

Richard Yunkus tries his sure hand as Danny Johnson gets in position for the rebound in the championship game of the Regional Tournament at West Frankfort.

Enjoying a late season surge after recovering from his broken jaw, Greg Fustin goes up for two points during the regional.

Sectional Title Secures Rangers A Sweet Sixteen Tournament Berth

Rated the Number 1 team for the tenth straight week and for the second year in a row, the Benton Rangers were an overwhelming choice to breeze through the Eldorado Sectional, but unexpectedly ran into trouble from the very start. The Rangers first met the upset-minded Mt. Carmel Aces and had difficulty throughout the game before emerging as 9 point victors. The Aces led by as much as 12 points and enjoyed a comfortable lead at the half time break. During the half and the first part of the third stanza, the Mt. Carmel cheering section started chanting, "We're Number 1," and this seemed to be a stimulus for the trailing Rangers. Benton began working the ball in better and shooting at a more respectable rate, thus giving the Rangers a lead at the end of the third quarter which they never lost.

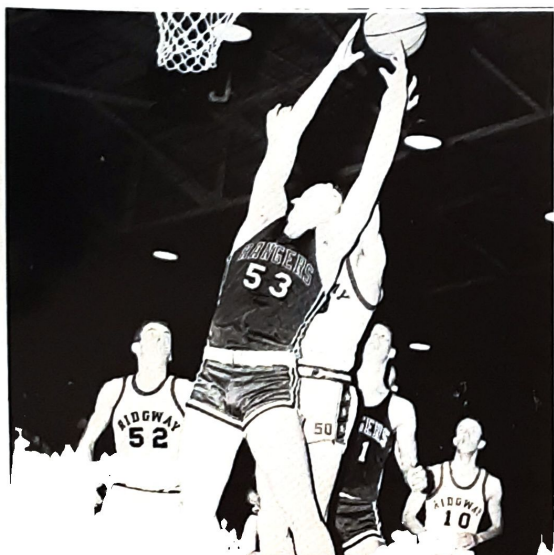

Victory number 30 was also difficult for the Rangers to obtain. The Sectional Championship dual pitted Benton against the Eagles of Ridgeway. In a game similar to the first contest the Rangers played in the sectional. The Benton quintet found themselves behind by as much as 10 points in the first half, but the third quarter again was the charm as the top-ranked Rangers took the lead and maintained it throughout the game, winning by an 8-point margin. The victorious Benton Rangers were presented the Championship trophy by Superintendent of Public Instruction, Ray Page.

Rich Yunkus fights for a rebound on the way down. Benton's awesome height advantage proved to be an important factor in many tournament games.

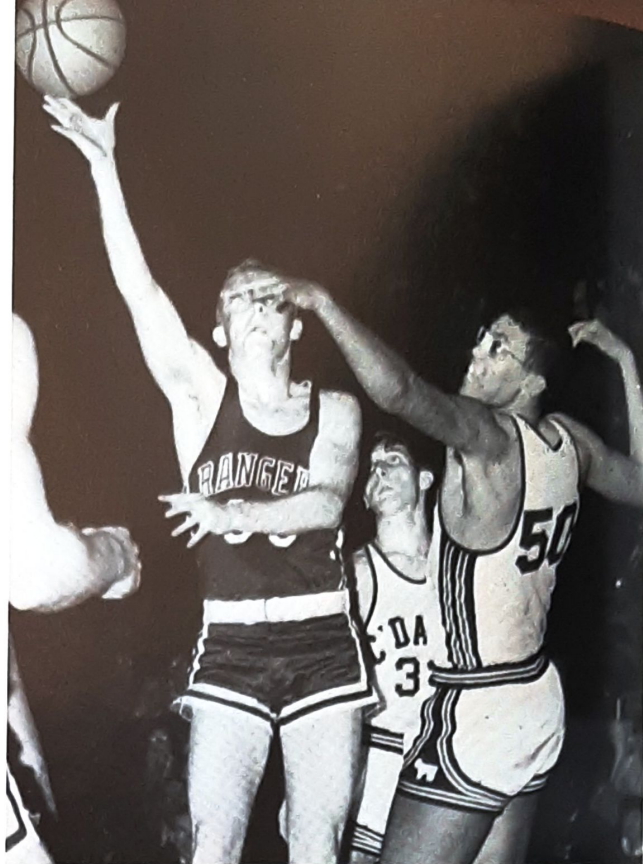

A loose ball caught Dick Corn by surprise in the Ridgeway game.

Bill Lowery goes way up in his effort to outstretch a Ridgeway player.

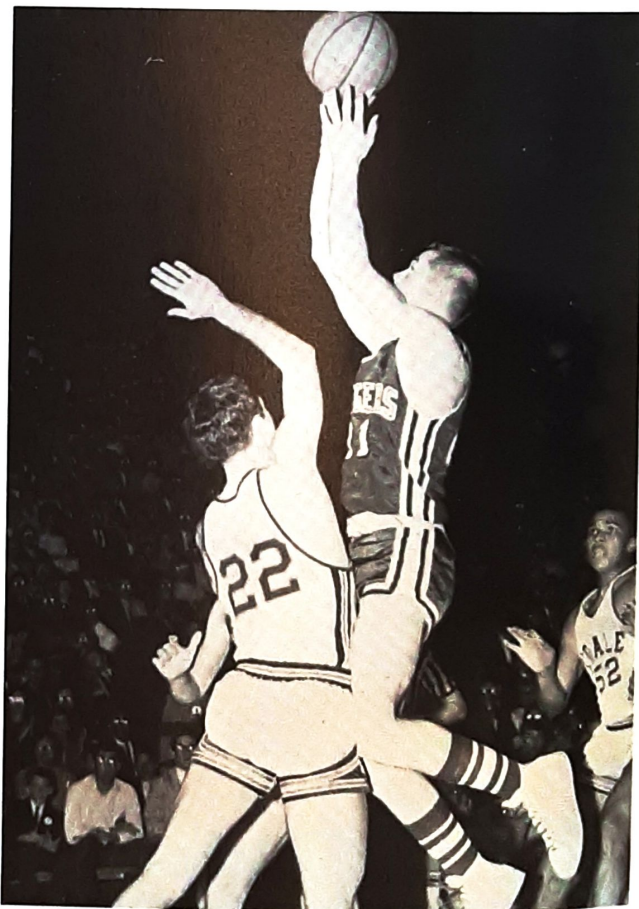

The Carbondale Super Sectional was one the whole state was watching for it matched Illinois' Number 1 ranked team, the Benton Rangers against the state's Number 4 ranked Carbondale Terriers. Most people agreed Benton, who had defeated the Terriers twice in regular season play to win the South Seven Championship, was the favorite, but everyone was also quick to agree that it would be difficult for the Rangers to defeat the physically stronger Terriers a third time. The enthusiasm was at a peak even before the Arena doors opened as cheers of "Let's beat the Rangers" and "Let's beat the Terriers" prevailed. The game began with the Rangers grabbing a lead which they kept the entire first half. The third quarter opened with Benton having a slim one point lead but at the end of the third quarter, Benton had widened the margin to 5 points. Most Ranger fans felt the awaited return trip to Champaign was becoming a reality, but the Terriers didn't give up. The fourth quarter saw Carbondale cut the Ranger lead from 5 to 3, then, to 1, and finally take the lead by a basket by Peaches Laster. But the Rangers battled back to go on top for the last time in the contest by one point. The Terriers were then able to connect on key free throws and the 10,000 fans jammed into the Arena saw Carbondale upset Benton 59-53, handing the Rangers their first loss of the campaign. Even though Benton was eliminated before reaching the finals at Champaign, the Rangers record of 30-1 was unequaled, and for the second consecutive year, Benton's Rangers were the winningest team in Illinois.

Jerry Hoover goes up for two big points in the tense super-sectional game at the S.I.U. Arena.

March Madness hit the cheerleaders. Although they had yelled for a winner all season, they were still excited as tournaments season began. Planning on going to Champaign, they, along with the rest of the Ranger personnel, accepted Benton's untimely defeat graciously. This defeat was their one disappointment in an otherwise perfect season.

Sophomores Have Many Close Games.

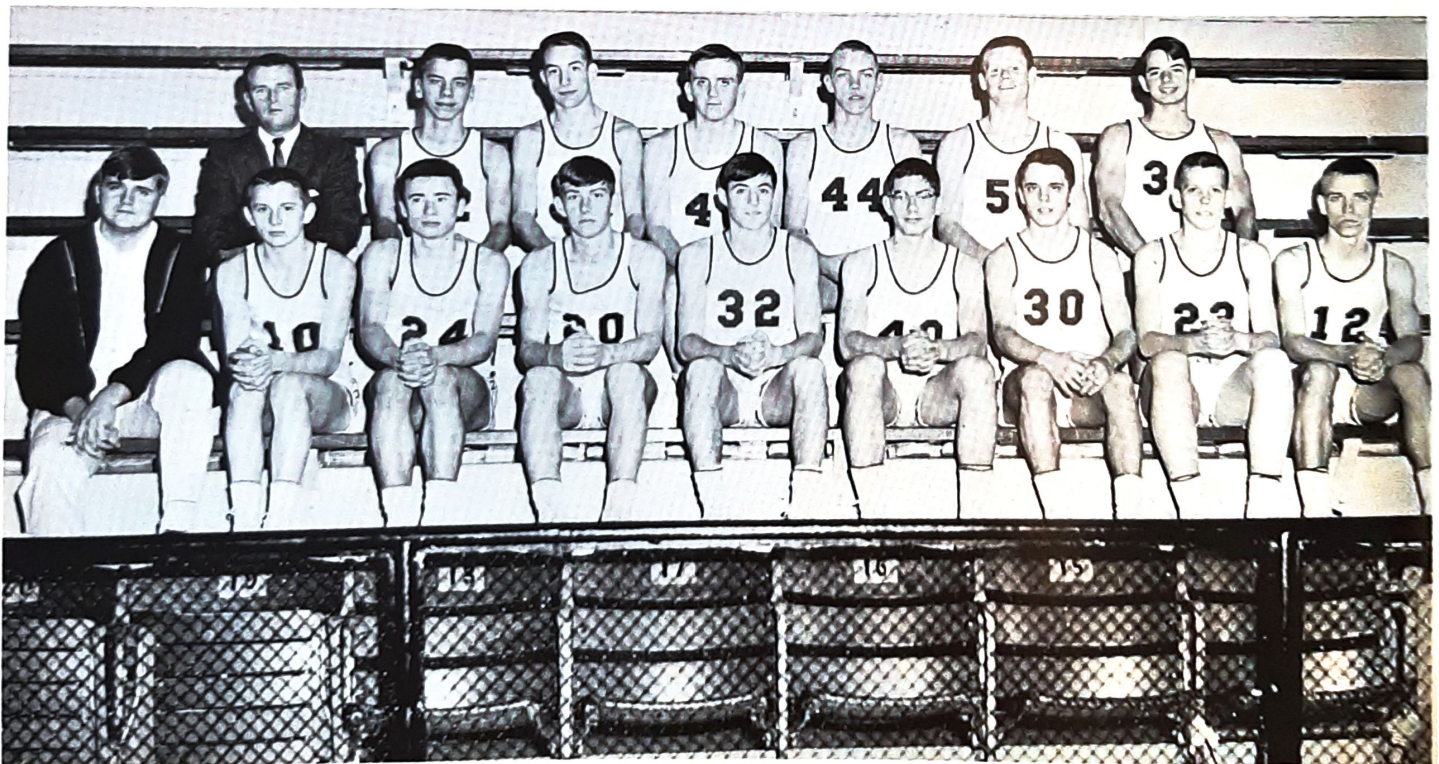

The 1966-67 sophomore Rangers provided enthusiastic supporters with an exciting season that included many games which were decided by only a few points. Coach Phillips' team ended up with a 10-7 record that included some tough overtime victories over Centralia and Herrin.

Ranger Harriers Have Outstanding Season

Benton's cross country team regularly made a good showing in their meets. The season record was 8-4. Consistent performers were Paul Shockley and Bob Sentel. Shockley placed ninth in the district meet and should finish near the top next year. The squad will be engaging in a year-round training program this year.

Senior Class of 1967

As our senior year comes to a close, we look back on our four happy years at BCHS with many fond memories. We remember our first frightening week as freshmen, and the seniors who tried to sell us "elevator tickets". We remember our first Homecoming dance, the Turkey Day games, won and lost, and the year our basketball team won the South Seven Conference for the first time and went on to have 31-1 record, the best in the state that year. We made many new friends who are now old friends. Our junior year found our class defying tradition and being the first in many years to order round rings.

We labored to raise money for the Reception which we gave for the seniors in '66. One of our first projects was working in the concession stand at football and basketball games during our sophomore year. We raised more money for the Junior-Senior Reception through "A Summer Place," the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, and the sale of the "World's Finest Chocolate," and the junior play—"Almost Summer." Wet clothes and damp faces, lots of fun, and more money resulted from the car wash we held.

Before we knew it, our last year at BCHS was here. Many students in our class had proven themselves scholastically, as well as in music, sports and club work.

As we depart, our class of '67 wishes to thank all our teachers, counselors, coaches, and Mr. Genisio for all the help and guidance they have given us. We leave high school with some sadness, but much anticipation as we move to our future in the fast-moving adult world of today. Whether or not our dreams come true, we will always look back on these four happy years at BCHS and cherish the memories we hold.

Bob Lewis can't believe his ears. Steve Friar is on to the joke.

Seniors assume many responsibilities. Marty Summers works diligently as an office cadet.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS AND SPONSORS are Mr. Philipak, sponsor; Allen Czenski, president; Sherry Odom, vice-president; Mrs. Neal, sponsor; Jackie Stewart, secretary; Ilana Neal, treasurer.

Juniors Receive Class Rings.

We Juniors feel we learned many of the in's and out's of high school life, as we experienced our first year as upperclassmen and accepted greater roles in class activity and extra-curricular activity.

This year was crowded with many activities. Our ring committee picked our class rings in October. In October we tried our talents as salesmen, selling many cases of the "World's Finest Chocolate." Each junior sold candy to make this project a big success. At Homecoming the juniors were represented in the parade with a float entitled "Let's Turnip a Victory!" We did our part in the preparation and participation of the Homecoming events.

The year was busy with classes in chemistry, more math, American literature, first classes in American history, and specialties in many directions. Our athletes moved up to varsity positions, and promising thespians did justice to the class play. This year was exciting and memorable, but next year will be the climax of our high school careers!

Sophomores Find Their Place.

This year the class of '69 became an active and integral part of Benton High. Sophomores spent much of their time crawling on their hands and knees hunting bugs and climbing trees collecting leaves for biology. At Christmas time, tunics and togas were the thing to wear to the Saturnalia for Latin students. Many studious sophomores discovered the wonderful world of geometry; we will never forget those proofs and congruent triangles.

One of our money-making projects which proved very profitable was selling light bulbs. We added further to our treasury by working in the concession stand at all the Ranger football and basketball games as we kept the fans supplied with refreshments. It was an endless job, filling the popcorn machine and carrying cases of cokes, but we enjoyed our new responsibilities.

What's ahead? Next year looks interesting from here.

The sophomore boys talk over a serious problem.

The Class of 1970 Accept The Challenge Of High School.

Our class has enjoyed this year as freshmen. We recall it with a smile—walking into wrong classes, dropping books, forgetting locker combinations, racing to beat the tardy bell at noon. New friends among students and teachers have broadened our horizons. We have become a part of the tradition of our school, and school has become an integral part of our lives. We hope the remaining years at B.C.H.S. will be the brightest of all.

Larry Summary, Cindy Ponder, and Pam Mabry enjoy the social life at noon.

BENTON— AT THE CROSSROADS

Benton, Illinois, is a city of the future. The future is bright. Not so long ago, Benton was in the middle of a poverty area. Now, the outlook is different.

Business activities in this area are on a marked upswing. Rend Lake is in the not too distant future. More and more businesses are moving their operations here.

The merchants have increased their sales. The people, as a result, are getting better buys. Commerce is at a new all-time high.

Living conditions are good now; they will be better in the near future. Benton is truly a city of the future.

Mary Lou Gulley teases inquisitive David House.

The bell rings, and the idle gossip and friendly chatter of another noon hour ends.
